Quality vs. quantity has long been a debate topic. Students, as crucial stakeholders, are concerned about the predicted consequences. As the technical education scenario shifts from an output-based to an outcome-based one, quality in such procedures must be addressed. We must guarantee that the result parameters are mapped in relation to the objectives and that the programmes are aligned with national policies in light of the global trend. Stakeholder satisfaction, including students, professors, alumni, and employers, has always been a struggle. Because quality is a metric for success, there is always room for improvement in every system.

Alva's Institute of Engineering and Technology, Mijar, being unique from its very inception and foundation, has emerged as a benchmark of excellence and innovation for the world of education. With quality sustenance as its focus, the IQAC of the college has developed the feedback mechanism commencing with obtaining feedback from the various stakeholders through a structured rating based feedback form. The college draws feedback from students, teachers, alumnae and employersfrom respective department for continuous improvement in curriculum development and enrichment.

Feedback is gathered from all stakeholders in our Institute through an offline approach. Following the collection of data from stakeholders, the response sheet is prepared and analysed using present parameters. Departments take necessary action based on the report. The department sends a copy of the report, together with the action performed, to the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) for any additional action that is necessary.

The primary goal of this feedback is to guarantee that every student has access to competent and high-quality instruction, which leads to vigorous academic, social, and personal development. The IQAC analyses the activities as well as other quality efforts on a regular basis. We must consistently adopt such Quality Initiatives into our processes and adhere to them in letter and spirit in order to satisfy stakeholders.

1.0 Student Feedback Form

The IQAC creates a feedback form, which is distributed to all departments for response collection w.r.t curriculum. Following is the sample feedback form of students.

1.2 Feedback Analysis report

An attempt was made to solicit opinions from all college students during AY 2023-24. A feedback form had been produced for this purpose, and comments from the students had been solicited. A total of 380 responses have been gathered from students on the Syllabus. Various industry oriented certification course and industry visit have implemented in department to satisfy the needs of students. Letter has been communicated to university requesting them to include Human values in the curriculum. Various sorts of graphs have been utilised to effectively portray the facts.

93.6% percent of students judged the curriculum to be very helpful in improving teamwork, developing analytical abilities, and encouraging constructive learning, while 6.4% of students anticipate curriculum improvement and speedy resolution.
